CONGRATULATIONS to A, who has successfully passed the BCBA Exam!

We are so proud of you!!!

Don't forget to submit your TIPS for January! TIPS should be sent to rrios@cbc-autism.com.

Thank you so much!

ABA Definition of the Month

Discrete Trial Training (DTT) is a highly structured teaching method that typically uses tangible or contrived reinforcers.

Each discrete trial consists of three key components:

- Antecedent: A clear, simple instruction given to the student.
- Behavior: The expected response from the student.
- Consequence: Either positive reinforcement for a correct response or a correction for an incorrect response.

SD: Instruction

R: Response

C: Consequence
(feedback/reinforcement)

A → B → C
 (Antecedent) (Behaviour) (Consequence)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

February Birthdays!

Jennifer

Andrew

Sajada

Abigail

Mikaela

Wishing everyone a wonderful, happy birthday filled with love and laughter - and an amazing year ahead!

"What is love except another name for the use of positive reinforcement?
Or vice versa."

- B.F. Skinner

Ideas and Reminders

Kindness Hearts Social Skills Game:

- Write different kind actions on paper hearts - Give a compliment, share a toy, say thank you, etc!
- Have the child pick a heart and practice the action with a therapist, peer or caregiver.
- Reinforce with praise or preferred items for participation!

Burnout can creep up, even to the best of us! Please take care of yourselves and ask for support when needed.

We are always here for you.

Please remember to notify Abigail, Janeli, and Gabe ASAP about any schedule changes.

Thank you so much!

Joke of the Month!

Monthly Tip!

Remind parents about small ways to reinforce therapy goals at home, such as practicing following directions, labeling emotions, or engaging in social conversations during daily routines.

Thank you for all of your hard work!
